CONTENTS OF VOLUME LXXX

"Into Danger but also Closer to God": The Salzburgers' Voyage to Georgia, 1733-1734
By Dietmar Herz and John David Smith 1

The View from Chalky Level: Francina Elizabeth Greer and the Plantation World of Clarke County
By Mary Levin Koch 27

Atlanta's Hospitality Businesses in the New South Era, 1880-1900
By Harvey K. Newman 53

Review Essay/Marxing Through Georgia: Eugene Genovese and Radical Historiography for the Region
By John Herbert Roper 77

Notes and Documents/Memoirs of a Partisan War: Sion Darnell Remembers North Georgia, 1861-1865
By Robert S. Davis, Jr. 93

Notes and Documents/"They're Thirsty on Main Street and All Over": Georgia's Coca-Cola Bottlers as Entrepreneurs and Civic Leaders
By Mike Cheatham 117

Georgia History in Pictures/Educating Atlanta's Women for Generations: Girls' High School, 1872-1947
By Tammy Harden Galloway 136

The Importance of Being Truculent: James Gunn, the Chatham Militia, and Georgia Politics, 1782-1789
By George R. Lamplugh 227

Educating the Daughters of Savannah's Elite: The Pape School, the Girl Scouts, and the Progressive Movement
By Paul M. Pressly 246

"Up in the Argonne": The Tragedy of Lieutenant Justus Owens and the 82nd Division in the First World War
By Richard S. Faulkner 276

C. A. Wiley and New Deal Land Reform in Georgia's Cotton Belt
By Gerald F. Vaughn 299

CONTENTS OF VOLUME LXXX

"Into Danger but also Closer to God": The Salzburgers' Voyage to Georgia, 1733-1734
By Dietmar Herz and John David Smith 1

The View from Chalky Level: Francina Elizabeth Greer and the Plantation World of Clarke County
By Mary Levin Koch 27

Atlanta's Hospitality Businesses in the New South Era, 1880-1900
By Harvey K. Newman 53

Review Essay/Marxing Through Georgia: Eugene Genovese and Radical Historiography for the Region
By John Herbert Roper 77

Notes and Documents/Memoirs of a Partisan War: Sion Darnell Remembers North Georgia, 1861-1865
By Robert S. Davis, Jr. 93

Notes and Documents/"They're Thirsty on Main Street and All Over": Georgia's Coca-Cola Bottlers as Entrepreneurs and Civic Leaders
By Mike Cheatham 117

Georgia History in Pictures/Educating Atlanta's Women for Generations: Girls' High School, 1872-1947
By Tammy Harden Galloway 136

The Importance of Being Truculent: James Gunn, the Chatham Militia, and Georgia Politics, 1782-1789
By George R. Lamplugh 227

Educating the Daughters of Savannah's Elite: The Pape School, the Girl Scouts, and the Progressive Movement
By Paul M. Pressly 246

"Up in the Argonne": The Tragedy of Lieutenant Justus Owens and the 82nd Division in the First World War
By Richard S. Faulkner 276

C. A. Wiley and New Deal Land Reform in Georgia's Cotton Belt
By Gerald F. Vaughn 299

Review Essay/ Georgia's Multiple Personalities, Past and Present: A Guide to The New Georgia Guide
By Frederick Allen 321

Review Essay/ The Bomb That Healed
By Leonard Dinnerstein 332

Notes and Documents/ The "Vexed Question" on the Birthday of James Edward Oglethorpe: A Tricentennial Review
By Paul Stephen Hudson 342

Georgia History in Pictures/ Imagining a Cotton South: Illustrations from New York's Popular Press, 1854-1888
By Karin L. Zipf 358

Annual Bibliography/ Georgia History in 1995
By Glorian Sipman 375

Introduction to Special Issue, Higher Education in Georgia
By Thomas G. Dyer 463

Ambivalent Bastions of Slavery: The Peculiar Institution on College Campuses in Antebellum Georgia
By Richard Wright 467

Martial Spirit, Christian Virtue, and the Lost Cause: Military Education at North Georgia College, 1871-1915
By Rod Andrew, Jr. 486

"To Illustrate the Genius of Southern Womanhood": Julia Flisch and Her Campaign for the Higher Education of Georgia Women
By Robin O. Harris 506

Racial Change and "Big-Time" College Football in Georgia: The Age of Segregation, 1892-1957
By Charles H. Martin 532

The Struggle for State-Supported Higher Education in a Southern Regional Center: Atlanta and the "Mother Institution," 1944-1955
By Merl E. Reed 563

A Baptist's Dilemma: Christianity, Discrimination and the Desegregation of Mercer University
By Alan Scot Willis 595

"Two, Four, Six, Eight, We Don't Want to Integrate": White Student Attitudes Toward the University of Georgia's Desegregation
By Robert Cohen 616

The Perception of Naval Protection: The Southern Galleys, 1798-1800
By William R. Wells II 737

Charivari: Race, Honor, and Post Office Politics in Sharon, Georgia, 1890
By William F. Holmes 759

Congressional Anti-Communism and the Segregationist South: From New Orleans to Atlanta, 1954-1958
By Sarah Hart Brown 785

Georgia History in Fiction/ Civil Rights and Socializing in the Harlem Renaissance: Walter White and the Fictionalization of the "New Negro" in Georgia
By Kenneth R. Janken 817

Review Essay/Erskine Caldwell's Poor Whites: Literary Realism or Historical Mythology?
By Wayne Flynt 835

Notes and Documents/ Bringing Moravians to Georgia: James Oglethorpe's Latin Letters to Count Nicholas von Zinzendorf
By George Fenwick Jones 847

Notes and Documents/ Richard B. Russell and the National School Lunch Program
By James Thomas Gay 859

Georgia History in Pictures/ Consuming Politics: The Material Culture of Georgia Compaigns and Conventions, 1840-1976
By John Gingerich 873

BOOK REVIEWS 151, 389, 646, 888

BOOK NOTES 214, 721, 949

NEWS AND NOTICES 223, 450, 730, 957

INDEX 964